K. C. Hutchinson, Little Silver Lake, Killed by Train

Phone Man's Car Skids in Front of Soo Line Express

Kenneth C. Hutchinson, 43, of Little Silver Lake, was instantly killed Wednesday morning when his sedan skidded on to the Soo line railroad tracks at the Grimm's road crossing, in front of Train No. 2718.

S. K. Sindell, engineer, and Howard Sindell, fireman, both of North Fond du Lac, who were alone in the cab at the time, reported that the train, a special express, was approaching the crossing at about 60 miles per hour when they saw the car, also traveling at a high rate of speed.

Sheriff's deputies George Bock and Julian Claude, who responded to a call put in at 8:47 by Mrs. Walter K. Hills, stated that skid marks for 45 feet on the east side of the crossing indicated that Hutchinson had made a desperate attempt to stop his car.

Body Thrown Free of Car

His body was flung to the side of the right-of-way 320 feet south of the crossing, but the automobile, which was doubled under the pilot, was carried further down the track before the train could be stopped. A section crew worked for an hour and fifteen minutes to extricate it, according to a report sent in from Lake Villa by Conductor E. F. Luxem of North Fond du Lac. The front of the engine was also damaged, George Good, Lake Villa station agent, said.

The regular south-bound early morning train, which was following the express, was halted behind it when the crew observed the stalled train and was backed to the Antioch Depot, where it was held until the tracks were cleared.

An inquest was held last evening in the Strang Funeral home.

The automobile was towed to Rosling's garage in Antioch.

Train 2718 had cleared the Antioch depot at about 9:30, according to Agent V. J. Keeney.

Hutchinson was apparently on his way to work in Chicago, where he had been employed since November, 1927, as a mechanic in the building division of the Illinois Bell Telephone company, Chicago area, and had been taking the short-cut by way of Grimm's road from Highway 173 just east of Antioch to Highway 21 near the Roundup restaurant.

Survivors are his wife and three children.

Private funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Earl Sorensen, 15, Dies In Waukegan

Youth Who Was to Have Entered 8th Grade Here Is Meningitis Victim

Earle Wayne Sorensen, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter N. Sorensen of Cross Lake, died early this morning in Victory Memorial hospital, where he had been a patient for the past five days.

His death was attributed to meningitis, although Dr. R. D. Williams, officer of the Antioch village and township health departments, had as yet received no official report, no doubt due to the fact that the Sorensens are considered residents of Kenosha county.

Earl was to have entered the eighth grade at Antioch Grade school when it opened Sept. 8, arrangements having been made for him to stay at an Antioch home while his parents were employed elsewhere in war work. He was never enrolled, however, although his books had been bought and were still being held for him at the school.

Earle was born Sept. 20, 1928, in Antioch Township. In addition to his parents, he is survived by two brothers, Pvt. Jerome H. Sorensen, who is on duty overseas in the Pacific area, and Pfc. Albert W. Sorensen, stationed at Carlisle, N. Mex., and two sisters, Mrs. Louise Nord of Chicago and Mrs. Stella Ehlers of Elgin.

Probate Court Approves Village Park Purchase From Thorne Property

The County Probate court has approved the purchase of 37 acres from the Thorne estate by the village of Antioch, Village President George B. Bartlett announced early this week. The land, located east of the Soo Line tracks and adjoining the Antioch Township High school land, was bought for $3,000 by the village board in a special session Monday afternoon, August 23.

A total of $1,000 toward the purchase was donated by interested individuals, and the village had already accumulated $1,500 in a special fund. The remainder, he pointed out, could be borrowed from other village funds, so that no special assessments or bond issues of any kind would be necessary. The property was bought primarily for a park and playground area.

News of the Boys in Service

Jack Spaay, Water Tender 2/c, son of Herman Spaay of Pikeville, left Sunday to return to duty with the navy after spending a week with his parents. Spaay, who has been in the service for nearly three years, has "left copies of the Antioch News all over the world." He has been in seven major engagements and was in the escort group for the Doolittle flight to bomb Japan. He is a former member of the Antioch Sons of the Legion drum and bugle corps.

Pvt. Arney Armstrong, who has been stationed in California, spent the past week visiting relatives in this region, including his father, Sam Armstrong, formerly of Deep Lake and now of Lake Villa, and his brother, Leonard, Lake Villa.

Lt. Graham T. Grimes, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. (Ned) Grimes of Lake Villa, has been promoted to the rank of Captain, according to word received here from "somewhere in New Guinea," where Capt. Grimes has been serving. He is a brother of Cpl. Betty Grimes, who is at present stationed in San Francisco. Their father is a veteran of World War I.

Pvt. Frank P. Ruschewsky, who has been stationed at Camp Hood, Texas, has been transferred to Fort Meade, Md.

From Ft. Benning, Ga., St. Sgt. Bernard Schneider, notifies us that "the weather here is plenty warm, but not so bad as it was in the California desert."

A new recruit at the U. S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill., is Frank J. Wiczorek, 28, husband of Frances L. Wiczorek, Route 1, Antioch, Ill.

Note to Wacs, Waves, Spars, Marine Corps Women's Reserve, and all other women in the armed forces—Geo. Washington didn't know it at the time, but he set the precedent for you when he made Mrs. Molly Pitcher an artillery sergeant in the army, away back in the Revolutionary war.

Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss., Sept. 22—The Army Air Forces Training Command announced today the graduation of Pfc. Joseph J. Pachay from the B-24 Liberator bomber mechanics school at Keesler Field.

Private Pachay, son of Mrs. J. Pachay, Antioch, has just completed a course of approximately 17 weeks of training in all phases of servicing a heavy bomber, its fuel, electrical and hydraulic systems, instruments, engine operation and inspection.

The Antioch News frequently receives items of general news interest from the public relations office at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill., but few of them carry so startling a human interest message as the following:

"The story of how Japanese medical officers on Attu blew up their own field hospitals with grenades, killing patients to prevent their capture, then committed suicide, was revealed last week in the blood-stained diary of an American-educated Japanese medical officer, Nebu Tatsuchichi. The news was received at this Army Air Forces Training Command post with horror and amazement by a former classmate, Captain Orville D. MacAlpine of Bad Axe, Mich., chief dispensary officer.

"Captain MacAlpine and Tatsuchichi both attended the College of Medical Evangelists at Los Angeles. Tatsuchichi then interned at White Memorial hospital in Los Angeles, worked

Five-year-old Kay Anderson Joins Baby Penny at St. Therese

"Kay," Anderson, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Anderson, who was taken to St. Therese hospital in Waukegan last week with what was characterized by attending physicians as "a mild form of infantile paralysis," is recovering and will probably suffer no ill effects, it is believed. One are and hand were partially paralyzed, but have begun to return to normal, and hopes are held that her recovery will be complete.

Anderson, who was in Chicago when her illness was discovered Thursday, brought serum back to Waukegan for her treatment.

Kay's baby sister, Penny Elizabeth, nine months old, preceded her to the hospital when she received a fractured skull when her mother, who was carrying her in her arms, fell down a flight of stairs at their home Monday of last week.

Penny is likewise recovering her normal health and spirits.

Other Tests Negative

Sammy Klass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Klass, has been under hospital observation in Waukegan since Sunday, although tests apparently indicate that he has not had the disease.

Rumors that the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Holbek had contracted the illness were negated when an examination at Victory Memorial hospital revealed that the child was suffering from a case of food poisoning apparently contracted when the family was on a trip to Lake Como, Wis., last week.

Antioch Reported Lagging In War Bond Campaign

Township Has Purchased Only $44,685 to Date; Goal Set at $89,600

Antioch township's bond drive is still far short of its goal, $89,000, Atty. Edward C. Jacobs, campaign manager, warned this week, in summing up purchases to date as totaling $44,685.25.

This does not include pledges on bonds not as yet purchased, he said. Jacobs urged that those who have made pledges pick up their bonds as soon as possible, since the drive will end Sept. 30.

Otto S. Klass, township bond chairman, has asked that those who are unable to purchase additional bonds before the end of the month fill up their savings stamp books instead, or buy additional stamps toward the purchase of a bond.

Bonds may be secured at the State Bank of Antioch, the First National Bank and the post office, all of which are co-operating in the drive. Stamps may be secured at the post office. The schools of Antioch village and township have their own set-up for the regular sale of war savings stamps.

Lake Villa Is Ahead

Lake Villa township has been leading Antioch by a wide margin in the bond campaign. Last week's total had already reached $57,950, according to E. K. Hart, who with William Weber is co-chairman of the drive there.

Havoc on the Farm

Nowhere has war caused more havoc than in agriculture.

Almost no new farm machinery is available. Repair parts for existing machinery are always difficult and sometimes impossible to obtain. The cost of everything the farmer must buy is at record levels. Worst problem of all is the farm labor situation. The draft has taken many farm workers. And the farmer simply can't afford to pay shipyard wages for help—with the result that tens of thousands of workers have left the rural areas to find high-priced jobs in war industry.

This, in part, is the farmer's answer to those who think that the increase in farm prices means that all is well down on the farm. The plain truth is that most farmers are wondering how they will be able to keep in business—and to effect the increases in production the government wants.

The situation is particularly serious in the dairy field, where skilled and permanent help is absolutely necessary. In many states, milk is a public utility, and its price is fixed by regulatory bodies. Vast quantities of dairy cattle have been sold for beef, because farmers can't obtain the necessary labor. It is time city dwellers understood some of the grave problems farmers face.

Progressive Post-War Planning

The Republican Party has reason to expect that after November, 1944, it will be charged with the administration of the Federal Government—both from the White House and with a majority in the House of Representatives. Mounting resentment over the country against the hit-or-miss operation of the Washington bureaucracy, supported by the steady turn of elections against the New Deal, makes this eventuality something more than a hope.

It was the part of wisdom, therefore, on the part of Party officials to call together into conference the elected officers of the party who compose the Republican Post-War Advisory Council which recently completed its first meetings at Mackinac Island in Michigan. And the broad-minded statement of Party principles that emanated from the Council provides a basis of confidence to the citizens of the country that Republicans have their feet on the ground and are viewing the tremendous problems of the future realistically rather than as merely an opportunity to take over the bureaucratic millions that have poured onto the Federal payroll under the New Deal.

The Republicans had two alternatives: they could have sat back and waited for the revolt against Washington's fumbling with the war administration and the playing of politics with the war; or, they could frankly recognize that there are no rabbits that can be pulled out of the hat to bring the war to a speedy end and reconvert America to a peace-time era of progress and plenty. That the leaders of the Party have seen fit to take the latter course, to start forth boldly to grapple with the nation's problems and seek solutions other than those of "spend and spend and tax and tax" provides a fresh basis of confidence in the workings of representative government.

Your Newspaper and Service

"Like the utility which supplies us with light, power, heat or water, the newspaper is rendering a public service. But, like the utility, it must also be a successful commercial institution or it cannot perform the functions of a service institution for people of the community in which it is published. Those who profit or receive a benefit from its operations must pay the cost."

"The newspaper serves the community in many ways, some of which may not be recognized by the general public. It makes of its people a homogeneous whole. It promotes community interest, and creates and maintains community pride. Its operations enhance real estate values. It attracts to the town, people of the surrounding sections, which means increased patronage for town merchants. The fact that it has a voice which can be, and is, heard in the interest of people of the community, protects them from unwise expenditures of community funds."

The personal items it prints is one of the services rendered by the newspaper. Those items create and maintain the interest of one in another. They make of people of the community an ever-widening family, with common interests. They establish community loyalty and attract patronage to the local stores because of that loyalty. People unconsciously read these things into those personal items.

"To the newspaper can be credited town and community improvements. Its report of a new home being built creates a desire for more homes. Its little stories of the planting of a tree, of a new coat of paint on a fence, the building or repairing of a sidewalk, are all services to the community. It is such things which keep the community moving forward. They cause it to tick."

It is the newspaper which promotes the institutions of the community. It creates and maintains interest in the churches, service clubs, Red Cross chapter, schools—all of the social and cultural institutions. It makes the town a social and cultural center, as well as a market place.

"When the newspaper solicits subscriptions and advertising, that is not done as a means of seeking charity, but as a means of maintaining a community service. For such financial support, the newspaper is giving full value, and more. To the life and growth of the community, it is as essential as in any other service-rendering institution."

"People, including the merchants, owe more to the newspaper than is generally realized. For the dollars they pay, they receive more than the mere reading matter the paper contains, or the advertising space the merchant has purchased as a means of making his business announcements. Those dollars are maintaining a public service for the community."—Publisher's Auxiliary.

CARLISTA DEAN AND CADET EARL RICHTER OF AIR CORPS WED

Of interest to many here was the candlelight ceremony in Peace Lutheran church, Wilmet, at which Miss Carlita Dean, daughter of Mrs. Elsie Dean, Silver Lake, became the bride of Cadet Earl Edward Richter, son of Br. and Mrs. John Richter, Twin Lakes, Wis., Sunday evening, Sept. 12.

The Rev. R. P. Otto read the service before an altar backed with palms, ferns and flowers. Darlene Schenning was organist and the solos, "My Deliverer" and "Perfect Prayer" were sung by Mrs. Russell Ende, cousin of the bride.

The bride's gown was of white slipper satin with a long train, a fitted bodice with high square neckline, and long fitted sleeves. Over it a long veil fell from a coronet of seed pearls. Her three-strand pearl necklace was a gift of the bridegroom, and she carried a bouquet of white roses, gardenias and orchids. Her uncle, Charles Dean, presented her in marriage.

Dorothy Dean, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Doris, Marie and Jean Richter, sisters of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. Miss Dean wore a gown of pink chiffon, with a long full skirt and long sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. The bridesmaids were gowned in ice-blue. All carried bouquets of pink roses and wore blush veils.

Edna Otto, flower girl, was frocked in pink net with lace inserts, and carried pink roses tied with blue ribbons.

Attending the bridegroom was Marvin Richter, his cousin, as best man. Ted Dean, Joseph Schlax, Roy Richter and Rodelle Harman ushered.

The bride is a graduate of Kenosha High school, which the bridegroom also attended before going to the University of Wisconsin. He is stationed at Washington university, St. Louis, Mo., in the meteorological branch of the Army Air corps.

THANK YOU

In behalf of the Methodist Church of Antioch, I wish to thank all who assisted in making our HARVEST-THANKSGIVING service one of outstanding success. Words fail to express the beauty and attractiveness of the display of food which graced the front of our auditorium at the worship hour last Sunday. On Monday about 160 quarts of home-canned fruits and vegetables, almost two auto loads of fresh fruits and vegetables, and several armloads of flowers were delivered to our Methodist Deaconess Orphanage, at Lake Bluff, Illinois, where they will gladden the hearts of many less fortunate than ourselves.

The special offering to apply on the fund for repair and redecoration of the church was $92.00. This will be materially increased by later contributions. These should be in at the earliest possible moment in order that work may be started at once.

We invite you to our Sunday School at 9:45 A. M. and our worship service at 11:00 A. M. next Sunday and every Sunday.

Warren C. Henslee, Minister.

hold of a diner so we aroused at 05:15 in Augusta, Ga., and marched up the Main Drag to an air conditioned restaurant. Scrambled eggs and ham—and Southern Hospitality. They sure were good to us. By the time we got out it was light and the people lined the sidewalks while we took over the streets. Sure makes you swell up with pride except they were calling us Wacs, Waves and Spars—but never Marines. It's an awful temptation to shout out but "No Talking in Ranks." It's funny how everybody succumbs to the discipline and loves it. There is a tremendous amount of pride connected with the Marine Corps and all you have to do is get in uniform and you feel it.

So now we are back on the train in all our fifth again. We will probably be en route for at least a week as we will no doubt have to get out and strut our stuff at other places along the line. This restaurant deal was quite a novelty to us. Tablecloths, napkins, plates and chairs. Also music while we ate. I wish we were equipped with a small library. Last night we flipped to see who was going to sleep in which berth. I got the lower which is the dirtiest.

I must tell you about my "bunkie." She is a combination of Indian, Mexican and Spanish. She was in my platoon so we know each other well and she is about the cleanest and hardest working little soul I've ever known. Her name is Anita Consuelo Sanchez. Just 5 ft. tall and weighs 95 lbs. She is absolutely tireless and can do incredible things for such a squirt and is as healthy as a horse. None of the shots even swelled her arm up. She is forever cleaning up—either herself or her surroundings. What is hers, is everybody's. Very black hair and dark skin—not pretty but cute because of her size.

I write this in spurts. It is now 10:30. We have just passed Rutledge, Ga., which is a pretty place. It is small but full of these big old southern homes—complete with pillars. It is 60 miles from Atlanta so we will be there for dinner. We dump off a few of our number there for link training school. The qualifications are high, it is excellent training but it is a Navy school. They don't like that very well. They will have to conform to Navy discipline. The biggest complaint is saluting indoors and when uncovered. The Marines never salute indoors or when they have no cap on.

12:30. We are in Atlanta and I just saw a Soo Line box car. It is awfully hot. We are all supposed to look very trim and military and we are so hot and dirty and stinky. That is one thing about seersucker. You can always say the dirt is a shadow.

11:30—We have it—and stretched—about bought the depot out of everything—especially magazines. Everybody has at least 5. We stocked up as we have a diner now so no more stops for a while. Maybe that is subtle but at any rate we are supplied with everything. And the Atlanta gals are gone. They were the smallest group. About 15 or 20. The next largest is the gang for Memphis. About 25 going to aviation machinist's Mates school. Then there are all the rest of us for Calif. Camp Elliott and Camp Pendleton and Frisco. Me and my little Indian gal are going to Pendleton.

18:00. In Piedmont, Ala. I have just had dinner in the diner—chicken again. All the way to New River we ate chicken. In Atlanta we had chicken and now more. They must think we never get it. But it is good.

10:00. We lost an hour back there. In Birmingham now. I forgot to mention the red soil in Ga. Red as blood. The conductor told us that we will be in Memphis at 03:00. I wonder if we will have to get up and march to breakfast at that hour.

August 25—09:00. Have just had the best meal I have ever had on a train. Maybe it was because we were so hungry. At 08:00 we crossed the Mississippi at Memphis. I've discovered that we are on the Rock Island Road and are nearing Little Rock, Ark. During the L.T. came thru and showed us some rice fields. I am a supernumerary of the guard today. We even have guard duty on the train. Ordinarily the supernumeraries are just kept on hand in case one of the guards becomes indisposed but on this thing we have the hardest job of all. From 06:00 until 23:30 we have to dash to the platform every time the train stops to see that no one except authorized persons gets on or off.

The uniform of the day—a dirty one. We are resigned to a week of this and now that there is no hope of keeping clean, we are having fun being dirty.

18:00—Just about time for chow. I have been pretty busy today jumping up every time this machine stops. At Little Rock little boys came up and sold us ice cream and candy. We stopped at Hallettsville, Okla., for a march; 3 session just keeping us in trim. And what an audience. It's a little town built like Coloma and people are noisy—who can blame them when a bunch of women invade the place. We have just left McAllister, Okla. My little Indian gal is getting all excited—she is from Albuquerque.

We had chicken again for dinner. 20:30—Something new has been added. Roast beef for supper!

We stopped in Shawnee and I raced to the door. We were there about 25 minutes. The cars started stopping right away. They seemed to know what we are. Some Legion Auxiliary ladies came dashing from some place with magazines, post cards and matches. They said they didn't realize it was a troop train so they had to rush.

The beds are all made up already, but I have to be on guard until 22:30 so I can't get undressed.

August 26—My mama's birthday and I can't do anything about it. Happy Birthday, Mama.

I woke up at 05:30 and looked out the window and there was Texas. You can't mistake it. I watched the sun come up and breathed this air. It's so clear—just like at Cheyenne. They didn't make us get up until 07:00 so I got Sanchez out of bed to come down and look out. We stopped in Amarillo and she almost went nuts as her mother is only 50 miles from here.

We had a field day this morning. Swept, swabbed and dusted.

18:30—We are stopped in Belen—the place we had to go to from Albuquerque to get back on the train—remember? We come thru some beautiful scenery and already some pretty good mountains. It is much greener here than in Texas or the eastern part of New Mexico.

We got out and marched in two places today—Clovis and Vaughn, New Mexico. The Lt. says we are behind schedule but I think we are doing exceptionally well. We left New River Monday night at 17:40 and here we are in New Mexico, just 3 days—3 nights. If I remember right it only took us slightly over 24 hours to get from Albuquerque to L. A., so by Sat. we should surely be there.

I love this air—atmosphere I guess you call it. It's like looking at an exaggerated post card because everything is so vivid and it seems like you can see a thousand miles.

August 27—

Again we have no diner. So we had breakfast in one of Fred Harvey's places in Ash Fork, Ariz. The scenery around here is beautiful.

12:50. We are just entering a desert and I am getting a real look at cactus this time. It is so green and shows up so well as everything else is brown and purple. The sage here is purple now. In Texas and New Mexico it was green. The stuff looks weird. It grows so funny. It looks like it should be growing in the bottom of the ocean some place. I've seen about 10 varieties and some of them are in bloom. It is very hot but not as bad as N. C., as the perspiration dries immediately.

It's amazing the way you can become reconciled to cotton hose. Rayons can't touch them for comfort and they aren't any hotter. Their only trouble is appearance—and that ain't good.

The engineer must be getting hungry for he sure is tearing his shirt now. We are going to eat in Needles. I'm lost as I let the Lt. borrow my map yesterday and she hasn't returned it yet. It's nearly worn to a frazzle.

10:00—We have eaten but it took a long time. We got out of the train and the Harvey House was full of soldiers and sailors so we had to wait for them. We are following their train now. The Corp. has told us that we will have supper in Barstow. It isn't very far but we have a few mountain ranges and deserts and stuff to go across.

One dark spot looms ahead. Tomorrow when we get off we have to have out Winter Greens on. We'll never live unless it is an awful lot cooler on the coast than it is here.

20:00 We got to Barstow but the sailors and soldiers had already eaten and were lining the platforms—each with a watermelon up to their face. They handed some up to the train so we had an appetizer. Our train broke up into two parts and the men's train did likewise and they were going north and south from there also.

Bad Point—The Lt. is on the Frisco train—with my map—Phooey!

August 27—01:00—We have had another experience. Sanchez came down in my bunk after lights out and we hung our heads out the window. It was nice and cool and we were going down fast. Pretty soon I saw flashes of light under the car. First thing I thought of was a hot box and I got scared. We got into San Bernardino and the car was (and is) so full of smoke we couldn't sleep, so I'm sitting in the wash-room waiting for it to clear up.

08:00—We are in a streamliner! Ah! Cleanliness. We got jugged around in L. A. The train (10 cars) is all men except the end car which is us. Is this grand and glorious! And it is actually cool enough to be comfortable in our greens. We are riding right along the coast—practically in the ocean with orange groves on the other side of us.

This is the end as we are practically at the end of our tour. All I've got to say is: Nobody's education is complete until they have gone clear across this wonderful country in a troop train.

Bye now, Love, JEANETTE.

FOR FORTY MILLION FIGHTING MEN

POTATOES sufficient to feed 40,000,000 hungry men—that's a big order, but it's an order that shippers along Soo Line have been filling for many years!

Some of the world's finest potatoes are raised in the great Northwest and a feature of those grown in the fertile lands tributary to the Soo Line is that they are in demand everywhere as high grade seed potatoes.

White potatoes comprise only a fraction of the freight tonnage the SOO LINE brings to market, it is an important one, particularly today. For many years the SOO LINE has striven to offer shippers a service of the highest standard, and today, despite many handicaps due to the war, we're still fulfilling our pledge:

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Strongly Intrenched Nazi Divisions Lock Allies in Hand-to-Hand Combat As Cost of Italian Invasion Mounts; Germans Continue Retreat in Russia

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Field pieces like this 105 mm. gun were instrumental in battering the Japanese defenses at fallen Salamaua, New Guinea. Manning the gun are Private George Basmajian (left background) of Fresno, Calif.; Private Glenn Hood, (center) Marlinton, Ark.; and Private Henry Garcia, (right) Eaton, Colo.

ITALY:

Bloody Fighting

Twenty miles of beach below Salerno, where American troops first set foot on the European mainland, was a raging inferno, with battle-hardened German troops fighting to throw the Allies back into the sea.

Streaming ashore from their barges with supplies speedily unloaded, Lieut. Gen. Mark Clark's Fifth army of American, British and Canadian troops ran into a stout German defense that made good use of the unfavorable terrain.

High in the hills above the beaches, the Germans 88-mm. artillery poured fire all along the landing strip; nestled behind orange and apple trees, and hidden in the tall sweet corn, their machine gunners worked, and summing up all of their experience, their panzer divisions stabbed into our lines, exposing the backs of the infantry turning to meet the attack to their rifle fire.

But in bloody fighting, the Allied units struggled bitterly to hold their ground, throwing their own tank divisions against the Germans, and locking in hand-to-hand combat with the enemy when he drove to the beaches. One hundred miles to the south, the British Eighth army beat forward in an effort to join with the sorely pressed Fifth army.

Restore Il Duce

Whisked from a mountainous plateau east of Rome by German paratroopers, according to a romantic dispatch from Hitler's headquarters, Benito Mussolini, architect of Fascism, was reinstalled in northern Italy to try to rebuild the broken ruins of his edifice.

As Mussolini assumed the task of heading a national government which the Germans set up in his name, the Duce's tough old Fascist militia reappeared in their black shirts on the streets of Italy's northern cities, and re-established themselves in control.

Once the most popular man in Italy, Mussolini's first acts were reported to be abrogation of Marshal Badoglio's unconditional surrender to the Allies as it might affect that part of the country under his dominance, and dissolution of the monarchy, with which he faithfully cooperated until it broke his power.

PORK:

Production High

With a hog population of over 100 million for the year, pork production is expected to approximate 12 billion pounds for the 12 months ending next June 30.

Of the 12 billion pounds, between 7 and 8 billion are to be allotted to civilians. The army will receive 1 billion and the remainder is marked for our Allies, notably Great Britain and Russia.

Some effect on total pork production is expected as a result of the government's support of prime light weights in an effort to conserve scarce feed supplies, and the $14.75 ceiling, Chicago basis, recently established.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

EXCHANGED: According to a roundabout statement from Tokyo, the exchange ship Teia Maru has sailed from Yokohama with 1,250 American civilians, bound for Morungao, Portuguese India. The Gripsholm left New York on September 2, carrying 1,330 Japanese to the same port, where an exchange will be effected, it has been reported.

FOOD PRICES:

Down 2.3%

Living costs will drop 2.3 per cent to within 2 per cent of September, 1942, levels with the government's subsidization of apples, oranges, potatoes, onions, peanut butter, lard, shortening and cooking oils.

According to the general manager of the O.P.A., Chester Bowles, cost of the program is expected to total 100 million dollars, which will be in addition to the 400 million dollars already being expended to reduce meat and butter prices.

In explaining the program, Bowles said that the government will pay some of the transportation costs of oranges, and will buy the entire potato crop and resell it at lower prices. Subsidies for peanut butter, lard and other shortenings will be paid to processors. Efforts will be made to cut prices of fresh fruits and vegetables 15 per cent below last winter's levels, Bowles said.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC:

New Guinea Victory

Cut off from communication from the north by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's daring envelopment of Lae with sea and air borne troops, the stubborn Japanese garrison of Salamaua abandoned that New Guinea base.

Beating their way through the thick jungle northward, remnants of the garrison sought to join up with the enemy forces at Lae. But there, no better fate awaited them, as air-borne U. S. paratroopers advanced on that base from the west, while Australian units pressed in from the east, where they had been landed by Allied naval forces.

Built in plantations on both sides of the place, Lae's defenses came under the artillery fire of heavy Allied guns, and Allied troops moved slowly forward against earthen machine-gun and rifle nests. The New Guinea and Solomon islands conquests meant the encirclement of the great Jap air and naval base of Rabaul, New Britain, and the anticipated neutralization of that center for future South Pacific action.

RUSSIA:

Move Forward

Following their plan of defensive action to conserve their strength to meet the shock of the Allies' charge in the west, the Germans fell steadily back toward the broad, winding Dnieper river all along the front.

Surging forward, Red troops entered Bryansk, east of the Dnieper's headwaters, once the Germans' key communication point on the central front.

To the south of Bryansk, Russian troops plowed closer to the Ukrainian capital of Kiev, which stands on the west bank of the Dnieper. And still farther down the river, the Reds moved in on Dnepropetrovsk, whose Dnieper dams supplied the power for the southern Ukraine.

In shortening their lines, the Germans surrendered rich farm land and territory abounding in raw material. They did, however, destroy all factories.

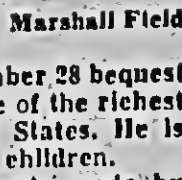

SHEEP: The largest run of sheep since 1921 passed through the Omaha livestock market recently, when 43,000 animals were sold. Dealers attribute the large influx principally to fear of ranchers in the West that they cannot find sufficient herders to tend the sheep over the winter, condition of range pastures also were said to be about 83%.

Willed $72,000,000

On September 28, Marshall Field III, grandson of Chicago's pioneer merchant prince, will be 50 years old. On that day, he will receive the residue of his illustrious grandfather's estate, amounting to approximately $72,000,000.

Added to about $93,000,000 previously obtained under the terms of the will, the September 28 bequest will make Field one of the richest men in the United States. He is the father of five children.

Through investments made by trustees of the estate, Field will have an interest in such outstanding Chicago realty enterprises as the 44-story Field skyscraper; the 38-story Pittsfield building, and the 22-story Conway structure. Through Field's own initiative, the trustees also erected the 600-family Garden Apartments on Chicago's near North side, in one of the first slum-clearance projects in the country.

DADS' DRAFT:

Seek Others First

While congress sought to untangle the complicated manpower situation state draft boards were ordered to make an extensive inventory of all available single and childless married men to assure their induction before fathers.

Under the order, all of a state's available single and childless married men will be pooled as a whole and will be drafted before fathers. Quotas of individual boards will be suspended, so that those with more men available will be able to go over their allotments, while those with less, will be allowed to fall under.

Congressional demands for the postponement of the fathers' draft inspired efforts for a general investigation of the whole manpower situation, to determine approximate military and industrial needs.

Employment Drops

In the face of the demand for congressional action on the manpower situation, the department of labor reported total non-farm employment in August at 38,295,800, a drop of 88,000 from July.

For the first time since the war-time shipbuilding program was inaugurated, employment dropped in the shipyards. Heavier declines were recorded in the construction and service industries.

In war industry as a whole, employment increased 29,000. Approximately 9,000 less workers were reported in non-manufacturing fields.

According to Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, men workers during the next few months will no more than replace those entering the armed services and auxiliaries. However, she said, many can be switched to war production from less essential industry.

BANKS:

Double U. S. Holdings

Federal Reserve member banks held 44½ billion dollars of government obligations, June 30, almost double the amount of a year ago.

At the same time, it was announced that interest rates on short term commercial paper rose to an average of 3 per cent, compared with 2.75 in March.

On June 30, total loans and investments of the banks amounted to more than 67 billion dollars, approximately 20 billion dollars more than a year ago.

WORLD COURT:

Proposed by Hull

Submission of all international problems for arbitration and the use.

of force to check aggression were proposed by Secretary of State Cordell Hull for maintenance of world peace.

For problems of a political character, Hull advocated the establishment of agencies which would mediate the various differences. For problems of a legal nature, he suggested creation of a World Court, operating on principles of law.

"But to assure peace," Hull declared, "there must be means for restraining aggressors . . . The peacefully inclined nations must be willing to accept responsibility for this task in accordance with their respective capacities."

Although each nation has its own peculiar interests, it still has enough in common with other countries to fight for maintenance of peace, Hull said.

BOOTLEGGING:

With bonded liquor scarce and subject to high federal, state and local taxes, the bootlegger is coming back, asserts M. L. Curtis, president of the National Alcoholic Beverage Control association, and a member of the Iowa state liquor commission.

The situation threatens to create a "bootleggers' paradise," said Mr. Curtis. The old-time bootlegger is already offering "hootch" at bargain prices, he said.

Towns With Population Over 100,000

CONSERVATION MEASURES REQUESTED BY THE OFFICE OF WAR UTILITIES

In the Home

Conservation during heating season

Reducing your home temperature to 65° will save substantial amounts of gas. You should also set the temperature down to 55° at night and when you are away from home.

If you have a gas space heater with no thermostatic control, use it only when heat is actually needed in the room where it is located.

Reduce your use of gas for heating by thorough insulation, weather-stripping and installing storm windows. Don't heat unused rooms or your garage.

Your gas range should not be used for heating the room.

Year Round Conservation

Save gas in cooking by preparing whole meals in the gas oven or one-dish meals on a single top burner. Do not light the top burners until the cooking utensils are in place.

Use hot water from your gas water heater carefully. Avoid a continuous stream of hot water for washing hands, dishes or shaving. Leaky faucets waste more hot water than you think. They should be repaired.

Careful use of your gas refrigerator will save gas. Don't leave the door open. Cool cooked foods before placing them in the refrigerator.

In Commercial and Industrial Establishments

Commercial and industrial users of gas equipment should watch for opportunities to avoid waste of gas in their gas cooking and water heating equipment as well as other places where gas is used. Gas cooking equipment should be turned off when no longer needed. Wasteful use of hot water should be avoided.

When gas burners do not function efficiently, see that they are properly adjusted.

Gas can be saved where premises are gas heated, if temperature is reduced to 65° when in use and 55° when not in use.

Gas has gone to war—
don't waste it!

The Observer

Omnious Oration

An amusing incident making the rounds these days concerns the minister who took leave of his congregation in the following manner: "Brothers and sisters, I come to say goodbye. I don't think the Lord loves this church because none of you ever die. I don't think you love one another because I never marry any of you. I don't think you love me, because you never pay my salary. Your donations are moldy fruit and wormy apples—and by their fruits ye shall know them. Brethren, I am going away to a better place. I have been called to be chaplain of the state prison. Where I go, ye cannot come, but I go to prepare a place for you, and may the Lord have mercy on your souls."

We've been rushing up panting with this item for the past couple weeks, but never did quite make it—ANYHOW, Wendell Teichert of Blue Island caught a 16 1/2-lb. catfish at Lake Marie on Labor day. He has lotsa witnesses, we are reliably informed, and Bert Roberts of Merry Glenn hotel was the weigher; just to make it official.

If no one comes forward to claim the fox terrier F. A. Yates of North avenue found wandering up and down Main street last Tuesday evening, he promises it a good home. The dog was noticed by Yates early in the evening when he observed it scurrying up and down the street, apparently looking for some one. Later, he observed it looking for a place to sleep, near Ted's Sweet shop and the Antioch theatre, and took it home in order to supply it with warm, dry lodgings for one night, anyway. Yates' telephone number is 161-J-1.

Our spies tell us the duck hunters have already begun getting their blinds, decoys, boats and guns ready for the start of the duck hunting season Oct. 15.

Comes Tuesday afternoon, and those intrepid croqueters who give and ask no quarter assemble at Dick Moran's Fairway Grill on Hy. 83-21 at Liberty Corners and swing their mallets with a gusto that the departure of summer has in no way dimmed, but which the invigorating fall weather has rather increased. "You've got to be able to dish it out and take it, too," is their motto. Among those who assemble for a friendly little game each week are James Webb, Joseph Panowski, Walter Darnaby, Ken Ashe, Bernie Fields, Willard Murphy, who was recently released from the armed service, Champ Parham of Trevor, and, of course, Moran.

A tinkle of glass up the street Tuesday around 7 drew the usual quota of sidewalk-dashers-and-neck-craners (including ourselves) all gazing toward the walk in front of the Antioch Five and Ten Cent store, where Marshal Fred Peterson was heading folks away from the broken fragments underfoot. Seems a sash cord gave way in one of the windows of the Red Cross rooms overhead. . . . and a pane popped out when the frame dropped. . . . That's all, folks.

Not a few days later, but almost a year later, was a letter recently received by Eddie Imboden, proprietor of an Antioch tailoring and dry cleaning establishment, from a nephew, Albert Georg, of Geneva, Switzerland. Mailed in December, 1942, the letter did not arrive in Antioch until the month of August.

These are the days, Oscar Hachmeister lets us know, when you gotta count your pennies to make sure they ain't dimes. . . . and vice versa.

We don't know what we'd do without our scissors—

Camp Hickory, Va. (AP)—A day in a foxhole on maneuvers may be just "another day another dollar" for some soldiers but for Private H. S. Bloomer it can be another dollar—plus a new sweater. Twenty-five years of knitting as a hobby has brought to Private Bloomer some novel experiences but probably none tops his tale of going into a foxhole sweatless and coming out sweat-ered. "I had put the yarn in my pack and stuck the needles in my boot," he related. "In that way I managed to knit practically every spare moment during the maneuvers."

The boss' brother, H. R. Gaston, got ahead of us in quoting this one in his LaSalle County, Ill., Ledger, for Sept. 16, but that isn't going to keep us from passing on a peeve that peevies us every morning when we start going through the mail—and more mail—and more mail—

HANDOUT JOURNALISM
(Chicago Tribune)

A treasury department press agent telegraphed to the Tribune from Washington the other day, calling our attention to a series of articles sent to us about the third war loan drive. He said that we would find these articles in a franked treasury envelope, and added, "This is a most satisfactory way to distribute some very good articles." He closed his telegram with a plea to look for the articles "in your very voluminous franked government mail."

The gentleman is right. Our daily quota of franked government mail is voluminous. Every newspaper and radio station in the country receives bales of the stuff each morning.

Most of ours goes into the nearest wastebasket because (1) it isn't news, (2) it is New Deal propaganda, the administration's attempt to control a free press by censoring news at the source. (3) If there is anything worth printing in it our reporters already have dug it up and it's in the morning paper.

While newspaper editors are tossing away tons of good paper that make up their voluminous government franked mail, readers are thumbing shiny newspapers with less news in them. Publishers are being denied the paper on which to print real news because the New Deal insists there is a paper shortage. It is doing its best to create one.

—Fact is, what with the paper shortage and all, we just ain't got room to print the stuff.

POULTRY MEDICATION

These Tablets are popular because of their dependable action in controlling certain intestinal infections due to Coccidia, Amebae and Bacteria, and Parasitic Infestation of poultry due to Roundworms and Tapeworms.

They are compounded from a balanced combination of Iron and Copper with an organic dye base and are adaptable as drinking water medication or may be used in wet mash.

The therapeutic value of these tablets is based on their astringent, germicidal and antiseptic properties.
